

Astley Ainslie Community Trust

Motion for AACT AGM 2021 - Response to NHS Lothian Reports

Astley Ainslie Community Trust acknowledges the recent reports that NHS Lothian is not planning to vacate the Astley Ainslie in the foreseeable future and the site remains a functioning hospital. It also notes the dissolution of the League of Friends of the Astley Ainslie Hospital. It is aware of the growing understanding that access to green space has a valuable part to play in maintaining public health and in limiting pressure on certain services provided by the NHS.

Considering these points, and keeping AACT's original goal of community ownership or control of the site in mind, AACT and its Executive Committee seek a mandate from its members to work towards continuing to develop a positive and supportive relationship with NHS Lothian, at all levels, in order to promote the broader interests of the community while the NHS remain on the site. This would always consider the interests of the patients and NHS staff.
